

ELECTRIC GUITAR, ACOUSTIC GUITAR, CLASSICAL GUITAR, BASS GUITAR, DRUMS, SINGING, PIANO

What's thrilling about today's demand for guitar and drums lessons, is the fact that teacher can make it so much fun! Please, read more about our approach to teaching music, focusing on all aspects of instrument playing. Our teaching approach: In instrumental lessons, we combine melody and musicality. It is essential that quality tutoring begins with proper posture. This aspect is so crucial, for playing on any instrument regardless of the method employed. Great results are directly linked to a proper line-up/instrument holding/positioning. If we do not emphasize this technical aspect of learning enough, it often leads to deeper problems later, resulting in a stagnation of musical development. Musicality is the most important aspect of learning music, as there is much more to it than just playing the notes. Music cannot be imposed, cannot be forced on to – it needs to come from one's heart. Learn your favorite song, bring a CD, accompany yourself when singing, compose your song... the options are here. Under the right guidance of our teacher, you will be able to play in a short time, songs that you like, classical or rock. If you want to explore the music for fun, starting as a child, or picking it up later in life, we have just the right tools for you. The goal is to accomplish and sustain progress at all times.

Andrew Brophy completed a three year applied music program at Mohawk College where he studied classical guitar under Johnathan Earp. He has had over twenty years experience in writing and performing in rock, hard rock and heavy metal bands as a guitarist, drummer and vocalist. He also was part of a classical guitar ensemble for a number of years.
